

Multiple modalities of communication are the new normal of education.

Not everyone has the same device. Not everyone has the same access.
Not everyone speaks the same language.

EQUAL ACCESS INITIATIVE

Empower your campus communications with multiple messaging modalities; today's new normal of education. ConnectYard enables greater access to course content for students without steady and reliable internet, English language learners and students with disabilities. Learners of all backgrounds can succeed using this equity driven approach to all-inclusive communication.
